ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First of all, I wish to acknowledge the immeasurable grace and propound kindness of the Almighty Allah. I express my gratitude to my honourable dissertation supervisor Mrs. Farhana Reza, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, Stamford University Bangladesh for giving me the opportunity to complete my dissertation report under her supervision. She gave me her valuable time and important information to complete the dissertation report. As without her proper guidance it was quite impossible for me to complete the dissertation.

I also express my gratefulness to my parents and my family members who encouraged me all the times.

Finally I express thanks to my friends and well-wishers.

ABSTRACT

This dissertation attempts to explore to what extent the Judiciary of Bangladesh has been independent after the final verdict of the Masder Hossain Case. It also tries to focus on the initiatives that have been taken to separate the judiciary from the executive and what are the obstacles available to implement the initiatives in this path. The dissertation has also discussed in briefly the conceptual side of independence of judiciary and lastly concluded with some recommendations, so that policy of independence of judiciary would be effective and helpful for the policy makers.
